DDPHE Suggested Steps if a COVID Positive Case is Reported

Onsite contact tracing by event coordinators
1. Notify attendees of potential exposure using attendee registration information (see sample below)
2. Direct attendees to current quarantine guidance, specifically the piece on "Do I need to quarantine if I have been vaccinated?" which recommends getting tested 3-5 days after exposure and wearing a mask until a negative result is received.
3. Direct attendees to report positive test results or the development of symptoms consistent with COVID-19 to event coordinators and cooperate with local health department interviews and contact tracing.
4. Five or more cases is considered a reportable outbreak in Colorado. Report to DDPHE if you are you're notified of 5 or more cases. All reports can be sent to DDPHEoutbreak@denvergov.org and need only be a brief summary of the situation and location of your event. DDPHE will connect you with an epidemiologist or outbreak investigator for follow up. 5 or more case must complete the outbreak reporting form found here. Second, there is a line list which documents each case of COVID-19 in detail.

Post Event
1. DDPHE only needs to be notified if you learn of 5 or more cases post-event. See step 4 above.

Sample Notification Letter:

Dear_____ Attendee,

We were notified today that # _____ attendees tested positive for COVID-19 after arriving in Denver. Prior to their diagnosis, members of these parties attended official events (list events attended). Group and the (CVB or Hotel) are in touch with each who report being ill and send our best wishes for a quick recovery.

Please remain mindful of COVID-19 symptoms and seek a test if you present symptoms. View List of local Denver Resources (list of testing locations & services) And while at (name of conference) , please continue to follow COVID protocol required to attend our conference in order to protect yourself and your fellow attendees.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention offers this guidance if you are sick or caring for someone.

Please know that this information is being shared to keep you informed and aware as we all work together to prioritize our safety.
